

WAR ENDED BY MARRIAGE.

New York Times (1857-Current file); Oct 20, 1889; ProQuest Historical Newspapers The New York Times (1851 - 2001)
pg. 5

WAR ENDED BY MARRIAGE.

MOREHEAD, Ky., Oct. 19.—Little Cupid has accomplished what the big State of Kentucky exhausted its Executive, legislative, and judicial machinery to compass. At Pine Spring, Rowan County, this morning at 8 o'clock Miss Grace Martin and Frank Tolliver were married. Miss Martin is a daughter of Gils Martin and Frank is a brother of the lamented Craig Tolliver, leader of the notorious Rowan war.

All the Capulets and Montagues of either side were present at the ceremony. Two hearts and two rival houses are joined, and the Rowan war is over for good and all. Active hostilities in Rowan ended two years ago, when Craig Tolliver and four of his clansmen were killed in a battle fought in broad daylight in this city. Since that time comparative peace has reigned.

The young people of the warring families were thrown together and this wedding is the result. In all, nineteen persons were killed in the factional fights.